D.A.R.E. Signs Agreement with Bahrain to Train Police Officers

The New Year has begun with the Kingdom of Bahrain's Interior Ministry signing an agreement with D.A.R.E. to train Bahraini police officers to teach school children about the dangers of drug and alcohol abuse. D.A.R.E. will begin the four year program by providing 24 police officers with two weeks of intensive training of the D.A.R.E. curriculum. Commenting on the agreement, Minister of Interior Shaikh Rashid bin Abdullah Al Khalifa stressed the importance of the program and urged other ministries and organizations to implement similar projects that promote awareness of such issues among the youth. With the agreement, Bahrain becomes the 45th country to teach the D.A.R.E. curriculum to school children. (more)
